

Save the date!

September 30—October 2, 2007

In alliance with NACUBO

Integrating Student Services: Fulfilling Our Student-Centered Mission

Minneapolis, Minnesota
University of Minnesota

Who should attend:

- The workshop will offer sessions for institutions at various stages of integrating student services.
- Whether you are exploring possibilities, in the midst of change, or seeking continuous improvement in integration, this program will address your concerns.

About the program:

- The workshop will address such topics as physical, organizational, and virtual integrations so you can construct a model that best meets your institutional and student needs.
- Unique mini-lab sessions will take advantage of the University of Minnesota One Stop Student Services office in Minneapolis to provide real-world examples of effective delivery of student services through integration.
- Other sessions focus on how to work most effectively, including staff development, cost containment, technology, customer service, and measuring effectiveness.
- Sessions will provide tools to help facilitate, lead, and participate in change while discussing the benefits, opportunities, and challenges of creating dynamic integrated student services.

Registration will be available soon at www.nacubo.org

Program Planning Committee

Frank Claus
University of Pennsylvania

Paula Gill
Belmont University

David Glezerman
Temple University

Anne Gross
NACUBO

Ruth Johnston
University of Washington

Hung Le
Pepperdine University

Julie Selander
University of Minnesota

For more information, please feel free to contact Julie Selander at goode21@umn.edu or 612-625-6579.